FIELD MARSHAL THE LORD BRAMALL OF BUSHFIELD

KG GCB OBE MC

FOREWORD BY SIR ANTHONY SELDON

ISBN: 9781526725646 • RRP £25.00 • Hardback • 384 Pages

The Bramall Papers published by Pen & Sword, cover the writings, speeches and other public utterances and recollections of Field Marshal Lord Bramall, delivered in the course of his long, very varied and eventful professional career. They provide an expert overview of Britain's foreign and defence policies, explain how these policies were developed over the last 75 years, and analyse what predetermined them and how they worked out in practice. They also expound with great clarity how the shape of conflict has changed and is still changing, with more emphasis on dynamic diplomacy backed by a subtler and more selective and technical use of force. The Papers also give useful guidance on how our Armed Forces might be got ready, controlled and actively used to advantage in the future, avoiding some of the unfortunate consequences of more recent campaigns.

In formulating and expressing his thoughts, the Field Marshal has been able to draw on his experiences gained at every level of field command, in a wide range of conflict situations, and over eight years as a member of Chiefs of Staff Committee (three of them as its Chairman) with responsibilities for crisis management at the highest level. At the same time and thereafter he has established himself as one of the country's leading 'military thinkers', who did not confine himself, as so many academic analysts do, to critical explanation of the past, but also managed to look ahead and forecast, often with uncanny accuracy, the changes in conflict situations and the threats this country is likely to have to face in the future.
